Hostess—Are you a musician, Mr. Muse?
Muse (who is dying to give an exhibition of his ability)—Well—er—yes. I think I can lay claim to some knowledge of music.
Hostess—I am delighted to know it. My daughter absolutely to play, and I should be very glad if you would kindly turn the music for her.

A Famous Man.
Johnson—That man in the corner hasn't spoken a word this evening. Perhaps he's doing all the more thinking.
Jackson—Very likely. He tells me he finds it impossible to say word in company, but he is a clever man, nevertheless. He is an author.
Jackson—Of what, pray?
Jackson—Why, of that famous book, "Aids to Conversation."

Willing to Try.
Old Gent—So you want to marry my daughter, eh?
Prospective Suitor—Yes, sir.

Old Gent—Do you think that you can keep her in the same shape that I have? Suitor—Well, from what I have seen of it in her bathing suit, opera gown and evening bloomers, I admit it's worth my while making the effort.

Good Practice.

"Jack," said the father, "are you going to enter for the sports at school this year?"

"Yes," answered the son, "I'm going to try for the mile race."

"All right. Here is a package. I wish you to deliver to Binkins. It is just about a mile from here, so let me see how long it will take you."

DROPPED DEAD!

Suddenly Stricken Down by Heart Disease.

A sudden and sudden death occurred in a well-known large city paper on the streets of this morning.

Nearly every large city paper contains a notice of death from heart failure is very large, but it is only when they occur in the same place that general attention is drawn to them.

Excitation and fluttering of the heart are common complaints. With the heart itself there is nothing radically wrong. But the system is disordered, the kidneys and liver are out of order, and the stomach is not in condition to do its work properly. Between them all, they throw too much responsibility on the heart, and the latter is unable to stand the strain.

A box of Dr. Chase's Liver-Kidney Pills at a cost of 25 cents will regulate the system, purify the blood and make a new person of every sickly man, woman or child.

Dr. Chase's Liver-Kidney Pills may be had from any dealer or from the manufacturers, Edmondson, Duggan & Co., Toronto. One pill a dose, one cent a dose.

Dr. Chase's Laxative and Turpentine is cold and cold. Largest bottle on the market, only 25 cents.

South American Nerve Drives Despair Away.

BECAUSE ALWAYS EFFECTIVE

An Unfailing Remedy for Indigestion and Nervous Troubles.

"It has at once that never felt a wound. Well he may, but perhaps not a word of the human race experiences many more in ill health and broken constitutions. Take the thousands who are to-day suffering from nervous troubles of various kinds. They are weary to death, but the uncertainty of their health is such that they can make no safe calculation of what they are doing. No wonder, then, that the discovery—South American Nerve—comes to the aid of every man and woman afflicted. No wonder, then, that it is so successful in all cases of nervous trouble, for it is unlike all others. For nervousness or indigestion, which is in many cases an outgrowth of nervousness, it is unfailing and certain to cure. Strong, positive words there, but South American Nerve works them all.

A TYPOS RELEASE

FROM THE AWFUL SUFFERINGS OF RHEUMATISM.

THE CASE OF E. P. ROBINS, OF WILSON, A SUFFERER FROM RHEUMATISM, WHO WAS FOR YEARS IN THE MOST PAINFUL AND UNPLEASANT PHYSICAL WORK.

The world today is both commercially and scientifically inclined toward system, and as a result everything is done in a systematic way. Every newspaper has its staff of reporters to observe and collect the news of the day. Every lawyer or district attorney has his staff of clerks. For some time past a reporter of the Welland Tribune has been watching the development of a treatment for rheumatism on one of the employees of that institution. About eighteen years ago, Mr. E. P. Robins, while at work in the Telegraph printing office, was suddenly seized with sharp pains all over the body, accompanied by extreme swellings. He was unable to move, and a short distance from the office, with difficulty, and on the doctor being called he pronounced it inflammatory rheumatism. For some weeks he had laid in bed under the care of the best physician, and at the end of six months he was again able to resume his duties. During the next few weeks he was subject to frequent slight attacks, and finally, though a change of location might be beneficial. With this idea Mr. Robins visited the different American cities, sometimes in good health and again in pain. He finally settled in New York. Here for about two years he followed his occupation with comparatively little ailment, when he suffered a severe attack which left him, until a few months ago, a martyr to that kaleidoscopic disease. Mr. Robins recovered somewhat after weeks of idleness and went back to the types, but again and again he was laid up, working only about six days a month. Gradually he grew worse and at last, most discouraged, he left the States hospital. After spending many weary months within its walls he was discharged with the awful verdict "Incurable." More from a sense of duty than with hope, he tried other hospitals in the city but with the same result, and resigned to his fate he left for his old home, where he arrived in February, 1888, a crippled, emaciated man, his former self, and was passed unrecognized by his former friends. One day in the summer of 1888, James W. Robins, who was bed-ridden until the summer, and then during the warm days he was able to walk up the aid of a spiked cane, he arrived in February, 1888, a crippled, emaciated man, his former self, and was passed unrecognized by his former friends. Strange Feat of a Cab Horse.

A curious incident which occurred at about four o'clock yesterday morning in the rue d'Alace is related in the Temps. This street is divided by two flights of steps.

A cabman was asleep inside his cab when the horse, tired of waiting, possibly, set off at a smart trot in the direction of the steps. The cabman awoke suddenly, opened the door and jumped out of the vehicle. He was just in time, for his horse had already reached the top of the steps.

The cabman was seriously hurt by his fall. When a policeman, who had seen the accident, got to the steps, he expected to find the cab smashed to pieces and the horse killed. But by something like a miracle there was no harm done. The horse and cab almost got safely to the bottom of the steps without accident and was caught on the place de Strasbourg.

The cabman was taken to the Lariboliere Hospital, but will be well again in a few days. If his sleep had been a little more sound and he had remained in the cab, he would not have been hurt at all. —European Edition of the Herald.

He Got It.

Hotel Clerk (who has noticed rice in Alkali Ike's hair)—Hum! the bridal chamber, I presume?
Alkali Ike (drawing his gun)—Looky here, pard! I'm a cowboy all right, but I ain't a-sleepin' in no stable on my wedding night. Gimme 'est best room in 'th' house, with a nary a bridle, saddle or lariet in it.—Judge.

Told Her Troubles.

The following conversation is reported to have taken place between a minister and a widow, who called upon the minister, seemed desirous of relieving her mind of something which oppressed her, at which the reverend gentleman, wishing to hurry matters, exclaimed:

"My good woman, you see I can be of no service to you till you tell me what it is that troubles you."

"Well, sir, I'm thinkin' o' gettin' married again."

"Oh, that is it! Let me see; that is pretty frequent, sir. How many husbands have you had?"

"Well, sir," she replied, in a tone less of sorrow than of bitterness, "this is the fourth. I'm sure there never was a woman so completely tormented w' a set o' desin' men as I've been, sir."

How He Opened.

Inspector, severely cross-questioning a rough-looking customer—What is your name?

"Ob, you know me quite well. I'm Pekin Frowlabout."

"And you mean to say that I know you?"

"Certainly, ever since I opened a goldsmith's shop."

The inspector stared at the man from head to foot: "With what capital did you open it?"

"Capital? I opened it with a jimmy!"

Extenuating Circumstances.

"The officer arrested you for being drunk," said his honor, severely; "very drunk indeed."

"Yes, your honor," replied the culprit, "but there were extenuating circumstances."

"What were they?"

"Why, your honor, you see, I was under the influence of liquor at the time."

All the Same.

Acquaintance (in the street car)—Hello, Horat! Haven't seen you since you got your last book out. How are you, anyhow? What's in that paper?

Struggling Author—A roast.

Acquaintance—I don't mean the brown. I mean the paper you are reading.

Struggling Author (with evident reluctance)—I have a roast in that, too.

Childish Logic.

First Youngster—I've got a new baby brother, what come from Heaven last night.

Second Youngster—That's nothin'. My little baby brother went to Heaven yesterday.

First Youngster (reflectively)—Poin, I bet it's the same kid.—Life.

The Bicycle Craze.

Gadabout—if the people of the viking age could have foreseen his age, what do you suppose they would have said about it?

Zounds—Well, I guess they would have called it the biking age.—New York Tribune.

HINDOO TRICKS.

THE OCCULT MYSTERIES OF THE BASKET TRICK LAID BARE.

Magie Without Mahatma—Very Simple Methods Used to Produce the Marvels at Which Generations of Visitors to India Have Held Up Their Hands in Wonder.

The credit for the exposure of the occult art of India belongs to A. R. T. Hood, a nephew of Hon. Henry Hall, late American Consul to Bombay. Mr. Hood has lived many years in India, and speaks Hindustani as fluently as English. He devoted a great deal of time to studying the characters and performances of the fakirs.

He won their confidence. He induced a company of them to go with him on a voyage around the world, giving exhibitions of their magic. They had great success everywhere before crowned heads and heads that were not crowned.

But he is sick of the business. The fakirs become cantankerous and multi-told two or three times. They are hard to manage outside of their own country.

Two rabbits were placed in a small cloth bag, loosely tied, and put on the floor. The small basket (3) was then placed before Nathoo, who put upon it his raiment, or girdle, made of cloth and leather, and reassembling a cross between a crocodile and a boatjack.

This little feat is very efficacious in Hindoo occultism, and should never be left out.

After putting it on the basket, Nathoo sprang a small cloth over both rabbits after chanting a hymn, he removed the basket with his left hand, with the cloth still over it, and while calling attention to the fact that the raiment was still there, he deftly picks up the bag containing the rabbits with the hand which holds the basket, bringing them around in front of him, quickly removes the rabbits from the bag, places them under the basket, throws aside the cloth in which the bag is concealed, lifts the basket and astonishes his spectators with the sight of the rabbits.

The bubble bubble or Hindoo hoax, mystery, came next. This is not a trick, exactly, but a very good illustration of the natural action of air and water, which greatly puzzled Mr. Hood for a long time. An ordinary coconut shell is hollowed out from a small aperture at the eye, having a hole about one-eighth of an inch in diameter and about 3 inches from the aperture. A chair rung about 8 inches in circumference and 8 inches long is held in diameter and about 3 inches from the aperture. A chair rung about 8 inches in circumference and 8 inches long is held in diameter and about 3 inches from the aperture. A chair rung about 8 inches in circumference and 8 inches long is held in diameter and about 3 inches from the aperture.

Figure 1 represents a small boat 18 inches long, about 6 inches wide and 3 inches deep. It is filled with water, and the side near the bow (figure 2) is pushed and air will throw stream from the small hole in the side of the coconut into the boat.

It appears to flow out at the will of the juggler, for he regulates his commands according to the time necessary.

The "dancing duck" trick which followed has often defied detection. A 1 in cut shows a half coconut supported by three stones. Nathoo filled this with water and soon a small duck (figure 3) appeared, and at his command he bowed and danced to the beating of a small tantom.

A horse hair fastened with wax to the duck's back, and running down through a pinhole in the bottom of the coconut (figure 3) was the simple means by which Nathoo made the duck dance. He held it with the hand that beat the tantom.

After this came the famous mango trick, of which every one has heard, looked very strange and mysterious, but the explanation makes one feel like kicking himself for not having discovered it himself.

After a moment's incantation, he lifted the basket to one side, raised the cloth, and showed in the earth a small green grove, which he had quickly put there by his clever palming.

The pot was again covered with the cloth, and Nathoo, prayed some more, his little girl, played on his hornpipe, beat his tantom, grasped a small bag, in which the mango bush was concealed, brought it around in front of him, and the mango bush struck the bush into the earth, took away the cloth cover, and there was the miracle right before us.

It was comparatively simple when Mr. Hood later took the trick very slowly.

Nathoo's last "miracle" was the great basket mystery, which he successfully performed with Mr. Hood's assistance.

This is said to be performed by the aid of the mahatmas, and in India is considered nothing short of supernatural.

The trick consists in putting a man into a net, in which he is tightly tied, and then laid across the top of a basket, about 3 feet long, 18 inches wide and 3 feet deep.

A sheet is then placed over all, and within ten seconds the net is thrown out from underneath the sheet, in which is woven the turban of the juggler, who has apparently disappeared from the basket.

A moment later the cover of the basket is removed by the conjurer who is performing the trick, and who, after arranging the sheet loosely over the basket, stamps on it and sits down on it. After this he gets up, places the lid on the basket, binds it tightly with ropes, and then with a sharp stick or sword pierces the basket violently on all sides, through a small hole in the center of the top.

This always confuses the spectators, that the basket is empty, and greatly puzzles them, for the previous inspection has established all that no trap door or secret passage was used.

When the man is placed in the net he immediately leaves the earth which runs from top to bottom, and when it is loose, it allows him to get out through the side, leaving his handkerchief in the net. He then ties the net together again with the cover, so that it may be examined after it is thrown out, leaving no trace of his escape from the net.

The whole time the net is being removed, the juggler in the basket curls himself around the edge, with his feet folded under him, and his hands in his pockets, which allows ample room for the assistant to stand and sit in the basket.

During the above time the net is fastened by the juggler against his chest, changing positions so as to allow the sword or stick to strike the four sides of the basket.

After this ordeal of dodging swords or sticks, and after the mysterious incantations by the chief juggler, the basket seems to take life and rolls about, and after the cover is removed the occupant is pulled out.

After putting it on the basket, Nathoo sprang a small cloth over both rabbits after chanting a hymn, he removed the basket with his left hand, with the cloth still over it, and while calling attention to the fact that the raiment was still there, he deftly picks up the bag containing the rabbits with the hand which holds the basket, bringing them around in front of him, quickly removes the rabbits from the bag, places them under the basket, throws aside the cloth in which the bag is concealed, lifts the basket and astonishes his spectators with the sight of the rabbits.

After this came the famous mango trick, of which every one has heard, looked very strange and mysterious, but the explanation makes one feel like kicking himself for not having discovered it himself.

After a moment's incantation, he lifted the basket to one side, raised the cloth, and showed in the earth a small green grove, which he had quickly put there by his clever palming.

The pot was again covered with the cloth, and Nathoo, prayed some more, his little girl, played on his hornpipe, beat his tantom, grasped a small bag, in which the mango bush was concealed, brought it around in front of him, and the mango bush struck the bush into the earth, took away the cloth cover, and there was the miracle right before us.

It was comparatively simple when Mr. Hood later took the trick very slowly.

Nathoo's last "miracle" was the great basket mystery, which he successfully performed with Mr. Hood's assistance.

This is said to be performed by the aid of the mahatmas, and in India is considered nothing short of supernatural.

The trick consists in putting a man into a net, in which he is tightly tied, and then laid across the top of a basket, about 3 feet long, 18 inches wide and 3 feet deep.

A sheet is then placed over all, and within ten seconds the net is thrown out from underneath the sheet, in which is woven the turban of the juggler, who has apparently disappeared from the basket.

A moment later the cover of the basket is removed by the conjurer who is performing the trick, and who, after arranging the sheet loosely over the basket, stamps on it and sits down on it. After this he gets up, places the lid on the basket, binds it tightly with ropes, and then with a sharp stick or sword pierces the basket violently on all sides, through a small hole in the center of the top.

This always confuses the spectators, that the basket is empty, and greatly puzzles them, for the previous inspection has established all that no trap door or secret passage was used.

When the man is placed in the net he immediately leaves the earth which runs from top to bottom, and when it is loose, it allows him to get out through the side, leaving his handkerchief in the net. He then ties the net together again with the cover, so that it may be examined after it is thrown out, leaving no trace of his escape from the net.

The whole time the net is being removed, the juggler in the basket curls himself around the edge, with his feet folded under him, and his hands in his pockets, which allows ample room for the assistant to stand and sit in the basket.

During the above time the net is fastened by the juggler against his chest, changing positions so as to allow the sword or stick to strike the four sides of the basket.

After this ordeal of dodging swords or sticks, and after the mysterious incantations by the chief juggler, the basket seems to take life and rolls about, and after the cover is removed the occupant is pulled out.

at A. Leslie's on Good Friday.

School was closed last week on account of illness of our school teacher, Miss Blanche Robinson.

Will McLaren paid a flying visit to our fine
last week.

George Sills, who has been on the sick list
for the last few weeks, is slowly recovering.

Miss Ida Sherman is spending her Easter holidays under the parental roof.

Fred Sherman, of Hay Hay, is visiting his cousin Robert Sherman.

Born—On April 3rd, the wife of Wilmet
Embury, of a son.

The Revival Meeting at Melrose is well attended by the young people of this place.

BARDOLPH.

Well, Mr. Editor with the arrival of spring
we can say "we are here again."

The winter in the section has been uncommonly long and severe and people bemoan
the spring with great satisfaction as it has brought very scarce and winter weather.

Sugar molasses has fairly commenced and bids fair of being a success.

Our Sunday school has not started yet but is waiting for the roads to improve.

Farmers are busy cutting up their wood for the season preparatory to the spring rearing.
John Spencer, having moved to Macdonald,
is now at home at his own place.

"But who will fill the gap, Will?"
We have not yet found out who will drive
our milk this season.

The factory will start probably by the 20th.
Miss Anderson and Miss F. M. Walmesley, of the Albert College, Belleville, have returned home after a few days, the guests of
A. B. Seemich.

"Say, Jack, will we go to Belleville the first of July?"

MELROSE.

R. R. Leonard, Napanea, is visiting his mother in the village.

Miss Jennie McFarlane, of Deseronto, and Miss Gertrude McFarlane, of Belleville, are spending their vacation at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Laite, of Plainfield, spent Easter as the guests of Mrs. C. McFarlane.

A successful series of revival services is being conducted in the Methodist church by Rev. Mr. McCallum, the conference evangelist.

Those who are fortunate enough to possess
a maple wood are now busy in the manufacture of delicious syrup or maple sugar.

David Jefferts has purchased the farm of the late Philip Laight.

Walter Morden is erecting a tenant house for A. McLaren, Jr.

Arthur O'Brien has assumed the duties of teacher in school near Coe Hill.

School has closed for a week, and the numerous sugar camps are invaded in consequence.

A. J. McLaren, M. P. arrived home on Thursday evening.

A large number of our Indian farmers, as well as the White tenants, have lost some valuable cattle, from some unknown disease,
which at present is epidemic among cattle.

Elijah Grant has been visiting friends in Belleville for a few days this week.

The annual Vestry meeting which should have been held last Monday has been postponed, pending the arrival of the new Missionary.

Mrs. Isaac Smart, near Shannonville, is seriously ill, a tumour or abscess having developed internally, and requiring skilled physicians to effect a cure.

Mrs. Jessie Green is also on the sick list,
her condition also being somewhat critical.

Chief Wm. Powles has made a decided improvement, by enlarging the wheel on his steam ferry, which will no doubt increase the speed of that popular craft.

The services were well attended on Sunday
last, many partaking at the Communion.

It is expected that all the arrangements
in connection with the appointment of the Rev. A. Grasset Smith be completed by April the 14, the above named Clergyman will officially in the lower church on the Sunday
following.

SHANNONVILLE.

Miss Maud Exley has gone to Saginaw to attend a few months with her sister, Mrs. Jas.
Howell.

Miss Bessie Crepper has gone to Big Island,
where she has been engaged as Cheese Maker
in the Springs Factory.

Mrs. C. B. Clarke, of Belleville, spent
Easter in our village.

E. Crepper, Mrs. Morden and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fenwick were the guests of Mrs.
Grant Sprague, of Big Island, on Tuesday of
last week.

Miss Lettie Sanderson, of Deseronto, is spending her holidays with friends in this vicinity.

Miss Ida Earle is engaged in Mr. L. E.
Mills' store.

Mrs. E. M. Lyke left on Thursday last for Toronto where she intends making her future home.

Property is still changing hands in our village, Wesley Fenwick having purchased the residence of Mrs. Milton Williams.

Miss Hannah Crepper, who has been confined to her room with an attack of the grippe,
is able to be in the office again.

Osborne Sine, formerly of this place, late of Grafton, has engaged the blacksmith shop owned by Mrs. W. Earle, and is prepared to give satisfaction to all customers.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Short, of Kingston, spent Easter with their niece, Mrs. L. E.
Mills.

Will Peaks, of Trinity College, Toronto,
is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Mills.

Mr. Bates has purchased the residence of Mrs. E. M. Lyke and has moved there this week.

MARYSVILLE.

Miss Jennie Ryan, who has been spending the Easter holidays at home, returned to her school in Belleville on Monday last.

Miss Sanford and Anderson, who have been dangerously ill, is slowly regaining health
again.

Rev. Lou Anderson is visiting friends in Belleville.

Alex. Anderson met with a serious misadventure while working in the bush on Monday last, viz. broken leg.

J. Lafferty, of Tweed, was the guest of H.
Ryan on Friday of last week.

C. Driscoll is still in poor health.

J. G. Campbell is able to be around again and it is a pleasure to see his genial friendly countenance in our midst again.

Miss L. Sheehan, of Westbrooke, spent the Easter holidays with her sister, Mrs. J.
Mascher.

Mr. McAlpine and Miss Katie Drummond
were guests of Miss Jennie Ryan on Sunday.

O'Neill, of E. Fisher spent Easter with Mrs. J.
Ryan.

High Mass was celebrated in St. Mary's church on Sunday. The members of the choir deserve praise for the zeal and interest which they take in their work.

Rev. Father Quinn was the guest of M.
Ryan on Sunday.

EMPEY HILL.

April 3rd—Mr. J. Wagar is still ill, but we hope with the advent of spring, to see rapid improvement.

After being sick removed to Napanea,
having decided not to rebuild his factory this year at least.

Mr. Lusher, Deseronto, now occupies the house lately vacated by Mr. Gould.

Miss Alice Brown was the guest of the Misses Allison last week.

Will Guyon and Walter Smith spent Sunday at W. Finney's.

Miss Scott and Mr. Young were guests of the Messrs Lusher last week.

John Stafford and Gladys spent Friday afternoon on the 2nd. "And when the sun set, where were they?"

Apple sugar making is the rage now: Our
dear girls will be swifter than ever.

Now that the snow is gone, the jingle of the musical bells from the north shore of the river will be heard no longer.

The girls of the 2nd intend claiming the promise of the young man who owns the "new luggy" purchased last fall. They say they will expect it at any very soon.

We are glad to know that Mrs. W. Gould is recovering from her recent illness.

Miss Annie Gibson still continues quite ill.

Miss G. Brown is spending Easter holidays with friends in Marlbank.

Cool Hargrave, the famous minstrel, is with Marks "Emma Wells Co." which appears on Saturday evening. Cool received $200 a week from C. J. McNeil, who has contracted with the company to give his appearance here on Saturday evening with his Emma Wells Co. The prices will be 10 and 20 cents.

IN MEMORY OF WOLFE.

At the parish church of St. Alphonsus,
Greenwich, last week the vicar, the Rev.
Theobald Lambert, announced that a new cemetery had been chosen on the north side of the church, through the liberality of a former pastor of the church. As the vicar commemorates the death of General Wolfe after stirring the legions of Abraham and capturing Quebec in 1759, the vicar commemorates the death of the Green with parish church.

Mr. W. MacIsaac has booked his Emma Wells
Co. to appear here on Saturday evening for one night only. Prices 10 and 20 cents.

CURSE OF SPRAINS.

I have used your Douglas' Egyptian Liniment to cure a sprain, and it did it. My horse was so lame it seemed cruel to drive
him, but after using 5 bottles at 25 cents each, he was permanently cured. He has now shown signs of lameness since it is now over 18 months since we cured him.

WITNESS-BOX WIT.

Reporters Which Covered the Lawyers With Confusion.

In England there is a society for the protection of witnesses from the attacks of the press. The society is called the "Witness Protection Society." It is a society of persons who are witnesses in cases of crime. The society is organized to protect witnesses from the attacks of the press. The society is organized to protect witnesses from the attacks of the press.

On one occasion Sir Frank Lockwood was defending a man in Yorkshire who was accused of killing a cat. The society is organized to protect witnesses from the attacks of the press. The society is organized to protect witnesses from the attacks of the press.

"Now, my man," quoth Mr. Lockwood (as he then was), "you must be extremely careful in your statements. You say you watched this affair for some time. Tell me, how far can you see a house to really know its points?"

"Just as far off as I am from you, master," replied the yokel, earnestly. And the crowd laughed and subsided.

There was a civil action in the law courts some time ago, mainly concerning the rights of a witness. The plaintiff was a witness in a case. The plaintiff was a witness in a case.

Counsel for the other side rose with a truly pompous air and inquired if he had ever become bankrupt.

"I have not," replied the witness. "I have not," replied the witness. "I have not," replied the witness.

"I mean to say, what were his last words?" "They don't concern you, sir," remarked the barrister, severely, "but they concern the whole court."

"Oh, all right," was the reply. "Father said: 'Don't be a trouble when I'm gone, Jim, cos lawyers is the biggest trouble thing.'"

"I can teach you law, sir, but I cannot teach you manners," said an exasperated counsel to a small, meek witness.

The latter quickly replied: "That is so, sir, and the people laughed continually."

The offensively familiar witness is a sore trial. The dignity and erudition of the most eminent lawyers are thrown away on him. In an important case recently heard in the Chancery division a laconic witness was asked the question:

"What sort of a man was he?" "The reply came swiftly: 'Just an under-sized, red-faced chap, like yourself.'"

A Good Girl.

There is a good girl in the world. There is a good girl in the world. There is a good girl in the world.

Woman—Oh, Henry! You surprise me to death. I accept.

Man—Yes, it is best to get the world as it exists. I was saying to live nobly in a beautiful thing. By the way, what if I don't love you?

Woman—Oh, Henry! How metaphoric! Man—Metaphoric? Woman—Metaphoric? Man—Metaphoric?

Woman—Calling yourself Uncle Sam and all that.

Man—Yes, it is best to get the world as it exists. I was saying to live nobly in a beautiful thing. By the way, what if I don't love you?

Woman—Oh, Henry! How metaphoric! Man—Metaphoric? Woman—Metaphoric? Man—Metaphoric?

TURNING GRAY WITH BALDNESS

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

The New Manager.

F. W. Taylor, the new manager of the Bank of Montreal, arrived in town yesterday. At a large meeting of the business men of Peterboro held last week Mr. Taylor was presented with a complimentary address. He was also presented with an elegant solid gold watch chain and a testimonial from the business community.

Mr. Taylor will know powers as an athlete he was presented with a seventy-five pound dumb bell which it was joyously stated might do as a pendant for the watch chain. The newspapers of Peterboro refer in the highest terms to Mr. Taylor as a courteous official and an affable citizen.

Obituary.

At noon on Wednesday, 15th inst., Michael Fox, one of the oldest residents of the town, passed peacefully away after a prolonged illness, much to the regret of a very wide circle of friends. Deceased who was in his 76th year, was a native of Shillagh, Co. Wicklow, Ireland. Shortly after his marriage to Miss Mary McGuire, of the same place, he sailed from Ireland on April 22nd, 1852, for Canada, and on his arrival in this country settled at Camden East, where he spent a few years on a farm. He then entered the employment of the Messrs. Rathbun, and for over forty years was a faithful and industrious employee of the Company. For a number of years he was connected with the "Yankee" mill at Napanee. Twenty-three years ago, on Wednesday, April 9th, he moved to Deseronto, where he made his residence until his death. He was a very active and robust man until about five years ago when his health began to fail. He was very feeble all winter, and at last succumbed to his disease on Wednesday. His wife died a little over three years ago. He is survived by six children—three sons and three daughters, viz.: Thomas and Patrick, of Deseronto; Michael, of Chicago; Mrs. John Farrell, of Ireland; Mrs. James Burns and Miss Jane, both in Deseronto. The family have general sympathy in their bereavement. The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning to St. Patrick's Church, Napanee, and thence to the vault at the Roman Catholic cemetery.

A PARTING TRIBUTE.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION TO F. J. ROGERS. The business men and other representative citizens of Deseronto were present in large numbers at the rooms of the Deseronto Club on the evening of Friday, 3rd inst., for the purpose of tendering to F. J. Rogers, the late manager of the Deseronto agency of the Bank of Montreal, a suitable expression of their esteem on his departure to Peterborough, where he assumes the position of Manager of the local agency of the same bank. Mayor Rathbun was called to the chair, and opened the pleasant duties of the evening by reading the following address:—

F. J. Rogers, Esq., Manager of the Deseronto Agency of the Bank of Montreal. Sir—We, business men and citizens of Deseronto, cannot allow you to depart to your new sphere of duty without expressing our regret we feel at your removal from our town, and we recognize in that removal your promotion to a more important and responsible position in the financial institution with which you have been for so many years connected.

It was a great satisfaction to all classes of this community when the Bank of Montreal—one of the greatest monetary corporations in the world—decided to open an agency in Deseronto. That the governors of the bank should have selected you as the first manager of the new agency was in itself a proof of their confidence in your administrative abilities. We cannot but testify to the sound judgment and business tact you have manifested in your efforts to place the agency on a proper basis, a task which, no doubt, entailed a great deal of hard work and serious responsibility.

We would most heartily express our sincere appreciation of the courtesy and friendly consideration you invariably extended to all in the transactions with the bank, and we will always remember your readiness, by advice, suggestion or active cooperation, to promote the material welfare of the town of Deseronto. It affords us the greatest pleasure to ask you to accept this service as a very slight token of this appreciation.

We would also take this opportunity to express the general regret felt at the departure of Mrs. Rogers and the other members of your family. Mrs. Rogers, by her active and generous efforts in church work and other benevolent undertakings, has constantly manifested a desire to promote the best interests of the community.

We assure you that we will always retain the most pleasant recollections of your work in Deseronto, and we desire to wish you and your family all success in your new field of duty.

Deseronto, Ont., April 3rd, 1896. The address was signed by a long list of names, and the tokens of regard consisted of an elegant silver coffee service, a set of tobacco pipes, and a gold tooth pick.

These tokens were presented to Mr. Rogers by Rev. Dalton and W. J. Malley. Mr. Rogers replied in a brief but happy speech, in which he expressed his surprise and pleasure at the presentation, and his inability to reply in adequate terms to the kind words of the address. When he received his appointment to Deseronto he was told it was not a large business, but that it was the best of very extensive business interests. He had endeavored to do his duty as well as he could, and he found nothing but courtesy in his relations with the business public. He thanked them for the kind references to Mrs. Rogers, and only wished she was present to thank them personally. He left Deseronto with a great deal of regret. Very much was to be learned in Deseronto by a careful observer. He heartily appreciated all the kindness extended to him during his stay. He thanked them for the complimentary allusions of the address and for the rich and handsome tokens of their regard.

Brief addresses were also delivered by Dr. Newton, W. J. Malley, Rev. Dalton, T. H. Nasmith, G. A. Miller and others. E. T. Miller gave a song, and a very pleasant time was passed by the whole company.

In response to a suggestion by Mayor Rathbun, the retiring manager gave several valuable suggestions in reference to matters of business interest to the town, and a profitable discussion followed.

The whole affair was of a most enjoyable character. It was a spontaneous tribute to the business ability of Mr. Rogers who, as first manager of the agency of the Bank of Montreal here, performed his responsible duties with marked ability.

Followed by the next of duty with the best wishes of all classes in Deseronto.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENT.

It has been repeatedly charged that farmers who attend Deseronto market and sell large quantities of produce for cash, do not buy their supplies in town and that in consequence they should be deprived of many advantages which are now awarded to those who do.

The results of these investigations have in nearly every instance been in favor of the Big Store. This establishment is not only a large and continuously increasing trade with the farming community, which they highly appreciate and hope to still further increase.

Granby Rubbers

It is no wonder that rubbers, which are not the same shape as the boot, should be uncomfortable. It costs more to employ skilled pattern makers but the result is a satisfactory fit. Each year
new patterns are added, to fit all the latest shoe-shapes, and Granby Rubbers are always "up-to-date."
They are honestly made of pure
rubber, thin, light, elastic, durable,
extra thick at ball and heel.

GORED BY A BULL.

A lamentable accident occurred on the evening of the 10th of Pittsburg, when Patrick and Alex. MacCollum were attacked by a bull. The bull was putting a chain on the fence, and the men were standing near it. The bull, seeing the men, knocked one of them down, tearing it on the head. The other brother, entered, and the bull attacked him. The bull hit him on the head and he fell on the ground. The bull then turned on the other man, and knocked him down. The bull then turned on the other man, and knocked him down.

A CLOSE CALL.

Last Saturday James Potter, a Brockville
brickman, had a narrow escape from being killed by accident. He was driving a freight train between Deseronto and Napanee. The accident happened at an early hour in the morning while the train was running about twenty-five miles an hour. When the unfortunate man struck the ground he came in contact with ties that had been strewn along the outside of the track. He was thrown back, and also cut and bruised on the back, face and head, and recovered. When the train was stopped the man was picked up and taken to the hospital. He was brought to Brockville on the pike; Potter has been very unfortunate, as this is not the first accident he has sustained since he commenced railroading.

A WORD TO FARMERS.

The farmers of Tyendinaga, Richmond,
and Southampton as well as all parts of the
By district should be careful not to sow grain on wet land this spring. They will find it to their great advantage to leave such land alone until the time for planting corn.
The land will only be dry and fit for thorough cultivation. Then put in as many acres as possible of Canadian field corn.
This cultivation will clear the land of foul crop of weeds, and will be a great help to the farmer. Corn in the ear is good food for man and beast, and the stocks properly cared for make good fodder. After taking off a good crop of corn, there will be a great quantity of stalks that can be had of even timothy hay, and stock can be wintered
as well as the one that is not. The shortage of fodder this spring should be a lesson as to the necessity of taking this advice.

AFTER THIRTY-THREE YEARS.

About thirty-three years ago David Vermilva was living with his wife and family of small children near Robin's Mills, but was not satisfied with the slow process of acquiring a fortune as a tiller of the soil.
At that time the Champlain gold ore was being mined, and he went to the States
where he was successful in securing a fortune.
He was running high and Vermilva had fallen taken the fever, scraped together enough money and went west, evidently with the idea that he would make a fortune in a quick petency. It appears, however, that his hopes were not realized. At first he corresponded regularly with his wife, but as time went on the letters grew less frequent and finally stopped altogether.

Meantime the confiding wife labored hard at home to keep her children together and save their farm and by dint of almost superhuman exertions she succeeded. A few years ago she again heard of her husband
and she wrote him a letter, but no direct message reached her in latter year.

One day the latter part of last week an old man, very much crippled with rheumatism, came to the door of the house and by train. He proved to be the long looked for David Vermilva, and was on his way home. He had wandered over the whole of the west from California to British Columbia with indifferent luck and now he returns to enjoy the fruits of his wife's and family's labor.—Intelligencer.

THE CANADIAN MAGAZINE.

The reading public will find it hard to resist the attractiveness of the new Canadian Magazine. Prof. W. H. Fraser contributed a most interesting article on Toronto University, showing how in its early days it was a mere collection of dollars. J. Macdonald O'Leary shows some of the romance connected with the building of the Canadian's greatest railroad. Dr.
Macdonald's new story, "The Gargoyles," is advanced another degree in its unfolding.
Senator Power, of Halifax, contributes a very timely article on "The Perpetrator of Disolution," a most timely contribution.
Edward Meek compares the Canadian and United States system of Executive Government in an able essay entitled "Representative Government and Federalism." An Easter story is signed by Ella S. Atkinson (Madge Merton) while S. A. Carson and John Blewett contribute bright book reviews. The first instalment of a story of travel entitled "A Canadian Holiday in Europe" appears and is well illustrated. Two young ladies left Toronto in January for a bicycle tour through Italy and France and their adventures will be given in a series of six articles to appear in consecutive issues of this popular magazine. Altogether, the number is most bright and entertaining, as well as being essentially national in tone.

WATCH YOUR COWS.

Metz, Douglas Bros. & Co., Napanee,
Dear Sirs,—Having had my stock, etc., I feel it my duty to write you in behalf of myself. Our cattle were troubled a great deal with caked bags, they were so badly caked
we thought they would lose the use of them,
but your Douglas's Egyptian Liniment was applied twice, and in twenty-four hours we could milk as well as ever. When anything is on our home or stables goes wrong your Liniment is called for at once, it never has failed. Hoping this letter may assist you in putting forward the greatest Liniment
on earth.

AN ENOCH ARDEN CASE.

Thirteen years ago John Evans disappeared suddenly from Napanee, leaving a young wife, Mrs. Emma Parks, to whom he had not uttered a parting word. For seven years the young woman awaited tidings of her lost husband, but not a word came.
About this time an item appeared in the daily newspapers to the effect that John Evans had been drowned in the great lakes.
Mrs. Evans saw it and taking for granted that it was her husband obtained a lawyer's advice and was sent forward to Napanee, a blacksmith by trade. Evans has now made his appearance in town. He says he has been sailing on the Atlantic and Pacific oceans during his long absence
but fails to give any reason for not corresponding or letting his wife know his whereabouts. Mrs. Evans Grier will remain with her second husband, with whom she has lived a most contented and happy life. There should be some severe punishment for these husbands who start off from home and never write or tell of their movements.

THE STAGE OF CONVALESCENCE.

It is an interesting and critical.
The patient, carefully guarded at this period and enabled to overcome the effects of the wasted life. The assimilative processes are,
at this time, sure to be impaired and marred, and it is to be feared that the assimilative processes will both badly need the impetus which Maltine with Coca Wine alone can give.

The action of Maltine with Coca Wine
upon the digestive processes, which it rapidly strengthens, and its permanent and striking influence upon the nervous system, to which it gives vigor and tone, the restorative power of the body is immensely increased.
The strength and vigor come to the body
as quickly as it is almost impossible.
Experience, however, has demonstrated its efficiency in convalescence as well as in the stages of the disease, which debility, arising from faulty nutrition, manifests itself. Sold

DARKEST AMERICA.

Al. G. Fitch's minstrels were the attraction at the opera house last night. At noon they gave a street parade which exceeded anything of the sort seen here in recent years. The band is first-class and gave the people great pleasure. The programme at the opera house last evening
was a jolly, jolly, jolly, jolly, jolly, jolly,
one, ranging from the broadest farce to the choicest music and finest dancing and light. It was a most successful programme, and everyone was satisfied.—Barton Courier.

blast; a shrill blast that seemed to shake
the very foundations of the edifice, and

"As we missed that last dance," he said with a friendly smile, "I hope you will give this instead. It is only a square dance, but it's still a leaf, you know, is better than nothing at all."

Constantia crimsoned and then grew pale. She clasped her hands nervously. 'I am so sorry,' she stammered; 'but I have promised it to—'

'See,' interrupted he, coldly. 'You are determined, then, to deny me! No, do not trouble yourself to explain who it is. I can understand. But to be cast aside for him—'

CHAPTER XV

The following Sunday Constantin rose with alacrity, and donned her prettiest dress, and, coming, though decidedly elderly, still, she looked well in it, which compensated for many things. Her eyes were bright, her lips smiling, as she surveyed herself in her glass. She listened to the music of the morning with a deep attention, to-day she would see Egbert.

There is some talk of running a railroad

There was never any doubt of that! He was a good man, whose few never knew him absent; and his powerful, nerveless, emotional bend of his body, the strict watch his eye kept upon his prayer-book, and his fearful yearning anything in it might escape him, endeared him to the hearts of all who knew him in the minds of all—notably of Lord Killens, who always made a point of tucking his arm into Featherston's after service, and tottering down the grand staircase with him, muttering about the chance of his falling, and the necessity of being near him from Marriotta through the township of Beimoot and Sibbuen.

A novelty in the way of boring out the collars of steam craft was introduced at the Vulcan foundry in Toledo recently. Hereafter the work of boring out a cylinder has occupied several days by hand work, but at the Vulcan foundry the cylinder of the steamer S. C. Reynolds was bored out in seven hours by electricity. A motor was put aboard the Reynolds to do the work.

In many countries in Europe the government are establishing housewifery schools, and also housewifery classes in the primary schools. In these classes and schools girls are carefully trained by competent persons in the laws of health and domestic economy, how to look after invalids and young children, proper systems of cooking, etc., etc. The cost is not great and the benefit is already felt to be invaluable.

The house cleaning trend is abroad.

The members of Deseronto lodge, No. 102, I. O. O. F., will celebrate the 77th anniversary of the founding of the order in America by attending divine service in the Methodist church on Sunday, 26th inst.

Bro. Rev. R. Taylor will preach an appropriate sermon on the occasion.

The high wind of Tuesday smashed the ice bridge opposite the town in a few hours, and the bay is clear of ice as far as the eye can see. It holds still in Picton harbor and at Big Bay and other points, though the wind of yesterday and the extreme heat must have tended to break it up in large measure.

Michael Breaull, superintendent of the Big stables, has sold his three mules to the Messrs. Walker for their big show. The Rathbun Company purchased a number of mules after the American war and at one time there were over twenty in the stables. They have since been divided down to three. One of these had been out to Manitoba with Dr. Strang, of Napanee. They were sagacious brutes who, to use a common expression, knew as much as their drivers. The stables had been driven off to the barn.

The merchants and other residents of lower St. George street were out faces yesterday afternoon. The cause was due to the sudden and tragic death of Edward Monaghan's "Billy" who had succumbed to a dose of strychnine administered by some party or parties unknown.

"Billy" was the inseparable and faithful companion of his master and was more knowing than nearly any canine in town. He was small but possessed the courage of a lion and never hesitated to attack any dog however large if occasion so demanded.

Death of R. F. Pegan.

R. F. Pegan, one of the best known residents of Thos. Hastings, died at his residence, Milltown, on Tuesday, 14th inst. Deceased, who was 47 years of age, had been a sufferer from consumption during the past two years, and his death was not unexpected. He was a patient sufferer all through his long illness.

Mr. Pegan carried on an honest and successful business for many years, and all his business dealings were conducted in an honorable manner. He was very genial and a general favorite with people of all classes and creeds. He was married to Miss Hill— a sister of Matthew Hill, the former Indian agent— by whom he is survived. He had no family. The funeral took place yesterday, and was one of the largest ever seen in Shannonville. The lodges of Oddfellows and United Workmen attended in a body and presented a very fine appearance in the large procession. Religious services were conducted by Rev. D. O. McArthur, pastor of the Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. W. J. Saunders, after which the remains were interred in the Presbyterian cemetery. A very wide circle of friends all through the district will unite in extending their sympathy to the bereaved widow in this great affliction.

Legal.

Messrs. W. B. Bentley & Co., of Toronto, have opened an office in the McCullough Block, corner of St. George and Edmund streets. See their card in another column.

T. J. Naylor, with his usual enterprise, has secured the famous Field Negro Minstrels who will appear in the opera house next Monday evening. There will be a big rush to hear these notable artists. Popular prices.

Court Quite, C. O. F.

At a meeting of Court Quite, C. O. F., held on the evening of the 9th inst, the following were elected to offices rendered vacant by the removal of brethren:—A. E. Gracey, V. C. R. L. Hoppins, Fin. Sec'y; Chas. R. Wager, Chas. Hopper, Solmes, representative to the High court which meets in Montreal.

Drowned at Wellington.

On Wednesday evening the three-year-old son of C. F. Ackerman, of Wellington, was found drowned in a stream at that village. It is supposed he attempted to get a small pail of water from a stream that ran near the house but the current ran so swiftly that he lost his balance and fell in and was carried down the stream through the sluice of an old mill under which his clothing was caught in a wheel which prevented his body from being carried into the lake which was a few rods further on.

Steamer Deseronto.

The steamer Deseronto will leave on her first trip to Picton on Saturday morning, 19th inst., at 7 o'clock. The officers this year are: Capt. Wm. Skillem, Gilbert Arthur, mate; John Rios, 1st engineer; John Hart, 2nd engineer. This trim little craft is always a great favorite with the general public; her trips being made with the regularity of a clock. The bay would be a lonely sheet of water without the Deseronto. Capt. Skillem's name is synonymous with courtesy, vigilance and honesty, and the other officers are all reliable men.

The Bay Rising.

A. B. Burrows, of the Deseronto customs house, has kept a careful record of the rise and fall of the waters of the Bay during the past year. He informs THE TRIBUNE that about June 6th, 1895, the water in the Bay of Quinte reached its highest level for that season. It then commenced to gradually recede until last October when it fell to its lowest level for that year. It remained at that level throughout the past winter. This spring the water has risen rapidly and yesterday it was 2 1/2 inches above the lowest level of 1895, or two inches higher than it reached at any time during that year.

Dedication of the Oddfellows' Hall.

The members of Deseronto lodge, No. 102, I. O. O. F., have completed arrangements for the dedication of their new hall. This interesting ceremony will, therefore, take place on Wednesday, May 6th under the direction of the Grand Master of the Order in Ontario, Bro. Thos. Woodruff, of Bradford.

As a testimony of devotion to the members of the Order, it will take place probably in the morning or afternoon of the date mentioned. In the evening there will be a conversation for which invitations will be issued. The event will be in every respect worthy of this prosperous lodge of the order.

Presentation.

Charles Mills, of the insurance department of the General offices of the Rathbun Company, retired from that position last week in order to proceed to Chicago where he enters the office of his brother who conducts an extensive business in that city. The staff of the general offices being desirous of showing their esteem for Mr. Mills assembled on Saturday afternoon and presented him with a handsome gold ring set with a carbuncle.

Mr. Mills, on behalf of the donors, read a complimentary address. Mr. Mills responded in suitable terms. We may say that Mr. Mills was a very popular and efficient official and he made many friends in Deseronto. That he may succeed in the great western metropolis is the general wish.

Killed by a Bull near Marysville.

A very accident occurred last Wednesday afternoon at John McCullough's farm, in Tyndings township, a little north of Marysville, resulting in the death of Arthur Robinson, an English lad, about fourteen years of age, one of the Marchmont House boys. He went out with a pail to feed some chickens, and about ten or fifteen minutes after, Miss McCullough, who was at the time alone in the house, hearing some noise called for the lad to see what was. Receiving no answer, she went out to see for herself what was the matter. She was horrified when she looked through the gate into the barnyard to see the boy Robinson lying in the mud with the bull standing over him. Miss McCullough immediately ran and gave the alarm to the neighbors, who at once came and the boy was carried into the house, when it was found that life was extinct.

He was terribly cut and bruised about the head and neck. Dr. Vandervoort was summoned from Deseronto, and on his arrival he stated that death was due to the injuries of the wounds in his head. The animal had been delirious and was blooded as vicious, never having given trouble before in this time. There was no ground in the fact it is thought that the bull had suddenly butted the lad against this post and then hurled him about the yard, trampling him with his feet. It is needless to state that Miss McCullough was terribly shocked and unweary by the lamentable occurrence. Mr. McCullough, as soon as he got word, drove out and made all the necessary arrangements for the funeral, which took place yesterday afternoon.

DEATHS.

PEARMAN—At Milton, Ont., Hastings, on April 14th, 1896. R. F. Pearn, aged 47 years.

The Board of Health meets this evening. The Dominion Government has withdrawn the Remedial Bill, and will endeavor to pass some supplementary estimates. Parliament will be dissolved and elections take place about the last of June.

The weather has been very fine and clear during the past week. For the past three days the mercury has been in the seventies, and it has been almost uncomfortably hot. Warm rains are much needed to put the ground in good condition for cultivation.

Cricket Club.

At a meeting of the Deseronto Cricket Club, held on Wednesday evening, the following officers were duly elected:—F. S. Rathbun, honorary president; John Dalton, honorary vice-president; W. G. Egar, president; Dr. Newton, vice-president; T. P. Culhane, secretary-treasurer; I. Allum, captain; W. J. Malley, G. D. Egar and M. Crooke, executive committee; Dr. Dalnidge and W. D. McKee, auditors.

The Big Mill.

The Rathbun Company's big mill commenced saving yesterday afternoon, all the departments being fully manned. Everything was working nicely, and a busy season is expected. Robert Farrell, a very efficient mill expert, is again foreman of the mill. Samuel Johnson is again chief engineer. Thomas Hart and James Baird are millwrights and Thos. Johnston belt manager, etc. Allen Smith and John Meagher oversee the lath department. James Burns, Thomas Appleby, Robt. Barnes and Wm. Battick are fliers. John Clifford and John Shandraw are foremen of the sorting gangs, Neil Hunt being in charge of the wire rope conveyor. Thos. Black will run the twin circulars and Richard Baxter the big band saw. Israel Sero directs the big chopper, and William Maracle and Ephraim Dalnidge are bosses of the east and west gang saws.

Farm Notes.

Dr. C. Hart Merriam, chief of the division of ornithology of the agricultural department, has examined the contents of the stomachs of hawks, owls, crows, blackbirds, and other birds which are commonly accounted to be the greatest enemies of farmers and farmers. His report shows that 75 per cent. of the food of these birds was found to be field mice, grasshoppers, crickets, and other insects, and that the birds were not so much injurious to farm crops as they are. The charge against crows is that they eat corn and destroy eggs, poultry and wild birds. The examination of Dr. Merriam showed that while 25 per cent. of the food of the crow is corn, it is mostly waste corn, picked up in winter and fall, and that the shells of eggs are eaten to a limited extent for the lime. Crows eat noxious insects and destructive animals, such as beetles, caterpillars, crabs, flies, grubs, etc., which do a great damage to crops. The cuckoo is also found to be a very useful bird.

Wherever possible the old sod should be plowed in the fall so that part of the decomposition of its roots shall take place when little growth is going on, so as to turn the sod into a good soil. When heavy sod is turned under, the frost has much better chance to work the soil than when it is turned up in the spring. The sod has been found to be a good soil, and it has been found that plowing it in the fall gives a much better chance to fertilize the soil. The sod, drawing the moisture in winter when the ground is covered with snow, so as to not cut out the plowed surface. The plowing should be done as late as possible, so as to prevent the frost from making new growth before the frost makes them dormant. In freezing and thawing many of these roots will be broken up and killed. In this way, by fall plowing a piece of quackgrass, it is possible to get a good head crop on it the following year. The furrow should be left turned, and harrowing in fall prevents the surface too much, and prevents the frost from having a thorough action on the soil. It is also much better to harrow over a rough surface in spring, making a deeper seed bed than is possible where the soil has been made smooth in the fall and is compacted by rains during the winter.

If you are losing sight of the future, climb up to the look of revelation and get a glimpse of the promised land.

A Lucky Invalid.

The New York doctors charge a great deal more than do the Texas doctors. Col. Melbrido Sumpter, of Austin, who was cured in 11 days of his recent visit to New York is our authority for the assertion.

He was in bed three or four days at his hotel and when the bill was presented he took a piece of paper and a pencil and figured out how much more he had to pay in New York than he would have had to pay in Texas for the same amount of indisposition. Having got through his calculation he folded his hands resignantly and said: "I am lucky in being sick here in New York instead of being laid up in Texas."

"Ah!" said the doctor.

"Yes," responded Sumpter, "for all this money I'll have to pay you, I'd have had to be sick in Texas for more than two months."—Texas Sittings.

Wanted a Bonnet to Match.

Friend—It is costing you more to make over that old dress than it would cost to buy a new one.

Mrs. Managem (a smart woman)—I am not trying to save money. I am trying to make it.

"What?"

"You are not married yet, you know. When my husband sees me in this dress, he'll think it's a new one, and he'll have a regular fit about woman's extravagance, and declare that I'm driving him to wreck and ruin and ought to be ashamed of myself."

"I shouldn't wonder."

"Yes. Then I will tell him that this is an old dress and over, and all those trimmings and furbelows are to cover up stains and tears and threadbare places in the miserable old rag."

"Oh, that's it."

"Yes. And then he'll feel so mean and cheap and disgusting that he'll give me $50 for a new bonnet."—New York Weekly.

Tale of a Comet.

The crew of a man of war once saw a comet and were somewhat surprised and alarmed at its appearance. The hands met and appointed a committee to wait on the commander to ask his opinion of it. They approached him and said: "We want to ask your opinion, your honor."

"Well, my boys, what is it about?"

"We want to inquire about that thing up there."

"Now, before I answer you, first let me know what you think it is."

"Well, your honor, we have talked it over, and we think it is a star spring a leak."—Ran's Horn.

Not Possible.

Fat Man (who is in something of a hurry)—I'll give you $5 to get me to the station in three minutes.

Colman (with provoking slowness)—Well, sorry, you might corrupt me, but you can't bribe that horse.—Exchange.

HAD INDIGESTION!

For a Matter of Some Forty Years or More

Joseph Gardner, store dealer, of Bath, Ontario, is a great believer in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for indigestion, constipation, jaundice, Bright's disease, rheumatism, and kidney and stomach troubles generally. He writes: "At intervals I suffer from indigestion and constipation, and have tried many remedies without result until I tried Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they are the only remedy that gave me relief. I would not be without them for anything."

Many people suffer from rheumatism, bad blood and indigestion. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will remedy all this and cure rheumatism, sciatica and all kindred complaints. Here is a sample case:

"My boy was all crippled up and suffered awfully with rheumatism. He also had a touch of diabetes. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills completely cured him."

Sold by all dealers and Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto, 25c.

When all other remedies fail Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will cure the worst chronic cold. 25 cents.

A LADY COMPLETELY

CURED.

She Used Paine's Celery Compound

Remarkable Increase in Weight.

The Great Spring Medicine for

Building Up Weak and Sickly People.

The surest and most positive cure in the world for disease is Paine's Celery

Compound. It strengthens and invigorates

the system, and builds up quickly flesh, tissue, bone and muscle. No other medicine can so fully and quickly meet the desires of the sick and debilitated.

It should be borne in mind that the best of disease is in the blood and nerves. The peculiar composition of Paine's Celery

Compound enables it to reach all the centres

where disease is working, and it soon

banishes all pain and trouble.

At this season, Paine's Celery Compound

is a heaven-sent blessing to every weak, debilitated and sleepless mortal. The disease that have men and women in bondage during the winter, can now be effectually removed by the use of Paine's

Celery Compound.

If you are truly and earnestly seeking

for relief, and long life, let the name of

Mrs. Lloyd lead you to give Paine's

Celery Compound a fair trial. You are certain to reap the same happy results that thousands of others have experienced. Mrs.

Joseph Lloyd, of Guelph, Ont., says:

"I feel it my duty to tell you what Paine's

Celery Compound has done for me. I was always a sufferer from nervous debility and headaches, and found it impossible to obtain regular rest and sleep."

"Two years ago I read of your valuable

medicine, and bought a bottle of it.

After I had used it I found I could get rest and quiet. I have used altogether

seven bottles and find myself completely

cured."

"Before I knew of your valuable medicine

I was treated by the doctors, but never received any good. Five of my friends are now using your great medicine since they have seen what it has done for me."

"I wish you to use my statements, as they may be of encouragement to others."

SEIZE THE OPPORTUNITY AT ONCE.

When the opportunity occurs to escape

from the clutches of the enemy, do not hesitate. But there are many consumptive

people living on death beds who can escape the threatened doom if they will take Miller's

Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. Some are not aware of such a preparation, and if they did

it will be the result of ignorance. Those who know that Miller's Emulsion makes

new blood and gives the consumptive the strength to overcome the disease are self-deceitful if they will neglect to obtain

it. The life giving remedy, Miller's Emulsion

is the great nerve strengthener and blood

maker and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis,

Scrophulous and all Lung affections. In Big

DO YOU GET WHAT YOU

ASK FOR?

Many Are Deceived When Buying

Diamond Dyes.

Many ladies are deceived when they go to purchase Diamond Dyes. They ask for the Diamond Dye, and many dealers, in order to get extra profit, wrap up some worthless

make of dye that proves useless to the material that is to be dyed.

Wrongly advise the ladies to beware

of the merchants who are in a hurry to substitute inferior goods. If your merchant

sells only genuine and big profit dyes, and your order is sent to us, and we send the Diamond Dye by mail to your address. The Diamond Dye costs only ten cents per package

(same price as the worthless dye), and is always warranted perfect. Write to

A STRANGE FABLE.

The distance which birds travel is marvelously great, the ornithologists say, and laymen are inclined to believe them. Mr. Herbert Povey writes to the London Field that every spring great numbers of golden and shag birds arrive in the Hawaiian Islands, and leave the first week of May. The nearest point of the American coast to which they go is in South California and the Alaska peninsula respectively about 2,000 geographical miles, and there is no intervening land. It may be that the birds drop into the water to rest occasionally, as ducks do, during such long flights, but it is not probable. This is the longest regular flight known of birds over water, but it is known pretty certainly that some birds fly as a regular thing much further than this during their migrations. The brant geese, for instance, are said to nest in Siberia, and fly north over the Arctic Ocean and south again to Cape Hatteras, or thereabout, and beyond, every year.

MOST UNWISE.

In the continual effort to employ cod liver oil in its pure state when the stomach protests against it. Almost equally vain are the attempts to compound it with other substances beyond their power to subside the oil. But where the oil is really needed, the stomach will accept of it. Prepared Emulsion with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites may be most satisfactorily used. This preparation contains all the medicinal properties of the oil combined with the hypophosphites and with maltine, an acknowledged digestant and reconstructive. It increases the assimilative power of the system, and aids the assimilative process, thus greatly augmenting nutrition and replacing the waste incident in pulmonary complaints and debility. A trial of two weeks will convince the most skeptical of its superiority.

DEATH OF R. T. HENDERSON.

R. T. Henderson, Esq., of South Fredericksburgh, died on Monday, April 13th, at the residence of his sister, Mrs. J. B. Diamond, of Parma, with whom he has resided for the past two years, in his 76th year, from an attack of la grippe. His health had been somewhat shattered, and he succumbed after a few days' illness. The funeral took place at the home on Monday. Rev. E. T. Shorey preached a very impressive and appropriate sermon. Deceased leaves a family of seven children—six daughters and one son—who are all married and settled in different parts of the United States and Canada—three in Paducah, N.Y.; one in Minneapolis; Mrs. Willing, Toronto; Mrs. Dr. Easton, Brockville. The latter, accompanied by the doctor, attended the funeral. Deceased also left a son who lives at Salisbury, Ontario. His wife, a Miss Smith, of Smith's Falls, died some 25 years ago. He also has two sisters living, Mrs. E. Diamond, Providence, R.I., and Mrs. J. B. Diamond, Parma. Mr. Henderson was an attorney-at-law, and a resident of Kingston for a number of years, and a well known member of the office of Post School Superintendent. He was a staunch Conservative and a personal friend of the late Sir John A. Macdonald. He held himself free from secret societies, and was a member of the Church of England for many years.

A Luminous Forelight.

A luminous forelight has been used successfully for some time to enable the gunner to direct his piece at any desired point in the darkness, or imperfect light. A small incandescent lamp, supplied with a current from a simple form of battery, is mounted within a shield at the muzzle of the gun, and a faint ray of light enables the marksman to obtain the required alignment with the back sight and with the target. It is now proposed to apply this device not only to the illumination of machine guns used against torpedo attacks during the night, but for the assistance of marksmen using rifles or fowling pieces for night shooting. In the latter case, the battery is concealed in the stock, and there is just enough light thrown by the lamp to enable the gunner to see the direction in which the muzzle is pointed, without dazzling his sight, or alarming the game.—Boston Globe.

Very Considerate.

What true friendship consists in depends on the temperament of the man who has a friend. It is related that at the funeral of Mr. X., who died extremely poor, the usually ebullient Tom Tight-lip was much affected.

"You thought a great deal of him, I suppose," some one asked him. "Thought a great deal of him? I should think I did. There was a true friend! He never asked me to lend him a penny, though I knew well enough he was starving to death!"

We have to be living very near to the cross before we can enjoy having our faults pointed out.

Many Are Deceived When Buying Diamond Dyes

Many ladies are deceived when they go to purchase Diamond Dyes. They ask for the "Diamond," but many dealers, greedy for gain and extra profit, way pass off some less make of dye that proves ruinous to the materials that are to be dyed.

We strongly advise the ladies to beware of the merchants who are mean enough to substitute inferior goods. If your merchant sells only common and big profit dye, send your order direct to us, and we will send the Diamond Dye by mail to you.

The Diamond Dyes are only ten cents per package (same price as the worthless dye)

SPRING SEEDING TO GRASS.

Quantity and Kind of Grass Seed to Sow Per Acre.

Practically on this subject varies so widely that it is impossible to give a list of the views of numerous successful farmers and professors of agriculture. In the following, the writer has endeavored to set forth the views of a few of the best authorities on the subject. It is to be understood that the quantities stated should be used. The common and scientific names of the grasses mentioned, below, are given, the figures after each being the average weight of a bushel of cleaned seed.

A Good Lawn and How to Get It.

There is nothing that adds more to the appearance of a country place than a fine, rolling lawn, and it is not too much to say that it increases the money value as well. This will be proven when one tries to sell a farm which has not been beautified by the addition of a good lawn. It is well selected trees. Says Downing: "It may seem a heavy tax to some, yet no expenditure is so profitable as that which is made in the production of a much beauty as that which is made in producing a well-kept lawn. Without this feature no place, however great its architectural beauties, its charms of scenery, or its collections of flowers and shrubs, can be said to deserve the name of a country place. A well-kept lawn, while it is the humblest of the estate grounds will possess a charm which is among pleasure grounds what a well-kept lawn is to a country place. It is a universal passport to admiration." In fact, trees and grass are the principal beauties of a country place, and the landscape; but they must have the proper care and attention in order to bring about the desired result. Downing says the essential to a good lawn is a deep soil, proper kinds of grass, and frequent mowing; but for this climate I would add a fourth—plenty of water. The average American summer is not well adapted to the production of a fine lawn as is the moist and humid atmosphere of Great Britain, and, therefore, much attention must be given to the richness of the soil, as the moisture takes its place in a measure. But in this country the soil should be of a rich, deep, loamy soil capable of retaining moisture, but not in excess. If the soil is hard and dry, it should be broken up and drained and trenched, or subsoiled to a depth of 10 or 12 inches, so as to form a reservoir of moisture, to support the grass. Subsoiling is not given the attention in this country that the conditions demand. Many people think that if the surface soil is in good condition it is all that is necessary. A deep soil is one of the essentials for a good lawn. If a good lawn is desired, one must be careful during the entire summer and autumn.

Too much attention cannot be given to the preparation of the soil before the seed is sown. The soil should be well plowed, cultivated, harrowed and rolled until the whole is thoroughly pulverized and mixed to a depth of six inches.

After the soil is prepared, the seed is sown. The seed should be sown in the fall, and then left to settle all winter before the seed is sown. This gives a solid foundation on which the grass can grow.

There are but two kinds of grasses for lawns that are well adapted to this climate. These are Kentucky bluegrass and redtop. There are a few other grasses, such as the Italian ryegrass and brown bent grass, which may be used, but they are more expensive, and in no way superior. A little Sweet vernal grass or white clover will do harm; but neither is essential. The coarser grasses, such as timothy, or fescue or meadow fescue, should never be sown on a lawn. They are not lived and too coarse and stiff to make a soft, velvety carpet. Many high-priced lawns are ruined by the sowing of these coarser grasses. As soon as the grass is sown, it should be kept in a very short state.

The third essential is early and frequent mowing. If the grass is allowed to grow too large before being cut, the stubble will be too stiff, and that soft, velvety appearance, which is so attractive, will be lost. As soon as the grass is sown, it should be kept in a very short state.

The fourth essential is early and frequent mowing. If the grass is allowed to grow too large before being cut, the stubble will be too stiff, and that soft, velvety appearance, which is so attractive, will be lost. As soon as the grass is sown, it should be kept in a very short state.

The fifth essential is early and frequent mowing. If the grass is allowed to grow too large before being cut, the stubble will be too stiff, and that soft, velvety appearance, which is so attractive, will be lost. As soon as the grass is sown, it should be kept in a very short state.

The sixth essential is early and frequent mowing. If the grass is allowed to grow too large before being cut, the stubble will be too stiff, and that soft, velvety appearance, which is so attractive, will be lost. As soon as the grass is sown, it should be kept in a very short state.

The seventh essential is early and frequent mowing. If the grass is allowed to grow too large before being cut, the stubble will be too stiff, and that soft, velvety appearance, which is so attractive, will be lost. As soon as the grass is sown, it should be kept in a very short state.

The eighth essential is early and frequent mowing. If the grass is allowed to grow too large before being cut, the stubble will be too stiff, and that soft, velvety appearance, which is so attractive, will be lost. As soon as the grass is sown, it should be kept in a very short state.

The ninth essential is early and frequent mowing. If the grass is allowed to grow too large before being cut, the stubble will be too stiff, and that soft, velvety appearance, which is so attractive, will be lost. As soon as the grass is sown, it should be kept in a very short state.

The tenth essential is early and frequent mowing. If the grass is allowed to grow too large before being cut, the stubble will be too stiff, and that soft, velvety appearance, which is so attractive, will be lost. As soon as the grass is sown, it should be kept in a very short state.

The eleventh essential is early and frequent mowing. If the grass is allowed to grow too large before being cut, the stubble will be too stiff, and that soft, velvety appearance, which is so attractive, will be lost. As soon as the grass is sown, it should be kept in a very short state.
